

Andrew Hunter & The Gatherers

BAND STORY

"Andrew Hunter & The Gatherers are one of the top new up-and-coming bands in Atlantic Canada! Recently, this three-piece rock outfit has been hitting the airwaves, the silver screens, and the highways across Atlantic Canada. Originally from Florenceville, New Brunswick the over the last decade, Andrew was splitting his time living in Maui, Hawaii and Halifax, Nova Scotia. In March 2005, he decided it was time to move back to Halifax from Hawaii, in order to pursue his passion for music. In September 2006 Andrew released his first solo album, an acoustic collection called the "The Sunday Sessions," which he wrote in the summer of 2005 in Halifax. Shortly after releasing his cd, followed by an acoustic tour of the Canadian Maritimes, Andrew recruited a bassist (Kevin Parnell) and drummer (Mat Budreski) to form what has now become Andrew Hunter & The Gatherers. They have recently completed the new album VICTORY AT SEA which was heavily influenced by experiences in both Halifax and Hawaii. Andrew draws inspiration from his surroundings in day to day life, surfing and the ocean. With a new record to promote, another in the works, a deal from DUCATI motorcycles to promote the band in it's "Ducati Thunder Race Team" video, six songs featured in the documentary "Breaking Ice : The Birth of a Canadian Surf Culture", a growing list of shows and plans to tour cross-country the future is looking bright for this high energy, hard working band. Find the new Album "VICTORY AT SEA" online @ CDBABY.COM or ITUNES as well as fine record stores and surf shops throughout Atlantic Canada."
