BAND STORY

"Butfunknowhere TM Contact: BFN Entertainment Archie Gillis/Darren Whitty johnarchiegillis@hotmail.com ButFunkNowhere (BFN) is a party, a unique blend of funk, rock, ska, jazz, hip-hop and pop. Boasting over seventy original songs, they also have arrangements of their favorite cover songs done in their own "Butfunkified" fashions.

ButFunkNowhere is known for their energetic live show and tongue in cheek attitude. The band is currently working on their debut CD release party that will take place this spring. The band's five members represent a diverse range of musical backgrounds: Archie Gillis (guitar), Darren Whitty (vocals), Nick MacInnis (bass), Chris Brown (drums), and Dawn Hatfield (saxophone, flute). Archie Gillis is a musical jack-of-all-trades. Archie's future plans are to make Butfunknowhere the first musical group to perform on the moon, by taking a carbon nano-tube elevator into space!!! Darren Whitty, aka Dizi D, is a vocalist, poet, and actor. He appears in local theatre and has had cameos in Scotland PA and Lord of the Rings. Being the biological younger half-brother of Brad Pitt (who's father refuses to accept him) has caused Dizi great angst and torment, which he unleashes on his audience with a vengeance of fury and mayhem. Dizi D has a magnetic stage personality and brings his background as a Philosophy and English graduate to his prolific song-writing skills. His versatile baritone vocals, strong knack for rhythm, and eccentric personality combine to provide a uniquely original stage experience!!! Nick MacInnis' bass lines are as penetrating as his big blue eyes. He cut his teeth playing in punk and rock cut his teeth playing in punk and rock bands in and around Halifax. International studies at Dalhousie kept Nick busy until he moved to ButFunkNowhere, lit up, and channeled the grooves of the world into his Fender Bass. He is also the first man to play "Purple Haze" on guitar at the summit of Mount Everest!!! Chris Brown began playing piano at an early age, joined the school jazz band on piano and percussion. He studied percussion and piano at St. Francis Xavier University. His rhythmic style is a composite of jazz, funk, Latin and rock influences. Reserved and soft-spoken off stage, he focuses his energy on providing BFN with its rhythmic pulse. Chris is also the inventor of an electromagnetic pulse generator, which he believes will cure cancer through targeting resonant frequencies onto microtubules!!! Dawn Hatfield, formerly of the Johnny Favourite Swing Orchestra, with whom she received a Juno and an ECMA, performs in various jazz combos and bands around Halifax. Dawn has toured Canada and the US extensively and appears on more than a dozen nationally released recordings. As a consummate professional and a music teacher by trade she has an amazing ear and a smooth playing sensibility. Dawn tries to be the balancing factor of sanity for the members of ButFunkNowhere; " Without her standing on the other end of the teeter-totter with her heavy bari-saxophone this band would have fallen into the abyss of madness long, long ago!!!"
