

Dead Airwaves

BAND STORY

"Eric Broadbent is an angsty, sarcastic, lyric driven songwriter/rapper/singer from Charlottetown, PEI. He is lead singer of PEI based group DEAD AIRWAVES (myspace.com/deadairwave)- with Mike Amelia, Behn Rocker and JP Moszynski. Eric was nominated for an ECMA in 2006 for the first ever hip hop /rap single of the year award, for the song "the girl at work" from the album "he wears his emotions on his sleeve", and performed at the ECMA 2006 Hip hop showcase with Tech Thai. The album later won the first ever Urban recording of the year at the 2006 PEI music awards, and Eric performed at the awards show with John Micheal Kelly ( Link ), and had Communikozi's -all the pretty girls are taken nominated for the same award. Nominated for an ECMA again in 2007, for Urban single of the year, for "pop star rehab", from the "green pastures of home" EP, later winning 2007 urban recording of the year at the PEI music awards. The Dead Airwaves EP was also nominated for 2007 Urban recording of the year at the PEI music awards, and Dead Airwaves performed at the awards show ( Link ). A new solo album produced by Mike Amelia aka DJ Ghost to be released in 2008, and a Dead Airwaves album later in the year, with 2 video releases planned. Eric has opened for the likes of Classified, Buck 65, Scott Parsons, and toured the maritimes twice with Criminal Records. He has been performing and recording since 1997. Dead Airwaves performed an ECMA showcase on the Music PEI stage at the 2008 ECMA's in Fredericton, it was high energy and well received. deadairwaves.ca coming soon!!!!"
