

Down With The Butterfly

BAND STORY

"Down With The Butterfly is a lyric and rhythm driven rock band from Halifax, Nova Scotia. They released their debut album, RISE, in June of 2006 and toured relentlessly until Spring 2008 with a live show that was beautifully intense. In 2008, RISE received an ECMA award nomination for Alternative Album Of The Year. In 2010, the band received its second ECMA award nomination: this time for Video Of The Year. The song TANK was used as the inspiration for Aram Kouyoumdjian's beautiful stop-motion video of the apocalypse. Despite the break-up of the band as a touring entity, Down With The Butterfly will soon be releasing its second independent album, called All The Pieces. "
