

Green Harbours Trio

BAND STORY

"The trio includes Cathy Cook, singer/songwriter, on guitar and lead vocals, Garrett Chetwynd (age 11) on rhythm guitar and vocals, and Kaitlyn Williamson (age 14) on lead guitar and vocals. The group hails from the Eastern end of Shelburne County, from West Green Harbour to Sable River. Beginning in the spring of 2006, local musician, Cathy Cook (please see www.silverthornmusic.ca) has been leading regular jam sessions with youngsters interested in playing music together. These informal sessions have evolved into local performances and the formation of the group, Green Harbours Trio. They perform original acoustic music and covers from several genres including folk, country and other popular music (that the kids download from the internet and learn to play). In January of 2007, Garrett and Kaitlyn were part of a larger group of adults and 'tweens' who came to Tim Feswick's studio to add backup vocals to 'I Can't Sing Farewell To Nova Scotia'--one of 12 original songs on Cathy's debut CD, Silk and Steel."
