BAND STORY

"Hey all! Before I get into my BIO I just wanna say thanks for the interest and stopping by! My OMN page will grow as I continue on my musical journey. For now you can view a few videos on my youtube account:
<http://www.youtube.com/user/nothingtosing> for most of the music I'm doing right now. Check my blog for details and updates!

Currently working as an Early Childhood Educator Stephanie- Known as Raina in the music and artistic circles- has always believed that music has a place in the classroom. Using her own experience with music as well as her degree and specific experience in music education Stephanie has loved every minute of turning your children into mini-music-loving-rock stars who value music as an artistic outlet every bit as much as she does! Raina has been performing in one way or another since she was 5 years old taking a lot of her training through the Nova Scotia Choral Federation, attending summer music and drama programs, professional modeling, acting, photography, musical theater, recording, and of course performing live. Raina loves to put on a show! You can find Raina at many open mics, classrooms, universities, art galleries, and festivals jamming away. Raina has opened for many local artists and performed along side the like of the lovely Kristina Trites and Rebecca Higgs, as well as Joel Plaskett, Jesse dangerously, Llyod Mac harley, Sleep to Dream, Isreal , Chad Hatcher, Christina Martin , Matt Mays, Ian Gosbee, and many more with more to come! Currently Raina is looking to meet new musicians and collaborate! She loves to sing and perform all genres. Living with an illness Raina has really learned to harness the healing powers of music and is working on translating her recent medical journey into song. Ahh Help

So thanks to my recent interest in my song "As We Fly" I decided to upload another song! To my dismay despite using the "add new song" my new song seems to have replaced my old song! From my control panel I can see that both songs are uploaded individually and one not replacing the other... but on my profile I can only find my new song and clicking any links for "As we fly" takes you right to my new song 😞 Any suggestions for what I might be missing?

Wow! Back and better than ever

Wow! I was so shocked when I came on Twitter today to see that my song was rising up the charts here. I was so confused at first, I thought, Hey! Someone stole my stage name! Boo! lol. I haven't been on here in a while because honestly I had password issues! I couldn't get the system to send me a password reset! Anyway, I have it all figured out now. Was all sort of surreal!

So what have I been doing with music lately? First of all I'm glad people are listening to "As We Fly" but that silly song is 6 years old at least and I don't really play it anymore! I have some recordings done up but nothing I'm ready to put on the site yet. I'm still refining 😊 I enjoy performing live much more than recording... so recording can be like pulling teeth for me!

Of course, I was a university student for 5 years and now I'm working in a pretty demanding field. It's hard to find time for my music. I was also recently diagnosed with a neurologically based illness that affects my pain levels and sometimes playing guitar can be a real challenge. 😞 It sucks when the thing you use to cope suddenly becomes painful! But ah, what is art without suffering?

I've done a lot of modeling though which has been great, and was even recently published in a book by www.bigskystudio.com Steve Richard! I've also done some great work with www.evolvingbeauty.com Eric Boutlier-Brown

I played a lot of open mics this summer but the school year has got me pretty beat. A lot of the music I'm playing now is for school-aged kids and younger, and consists of an awful lot of Raffi 😊 Of course, I love every minute of it.

I've written a lot of new material. Some of it I'm feeling is my absolute best. I'm excited to get into the studio to record it and I'm hoping you'll hear some polished stuff from me in the new year 😊

One thing I love doing however, is doing free online concerts via Ustream! So I'll start posting those here- it's really cool to hop in and see.

Thanks so much for all the support everyone! I'll try to be more active on here! Haha I felt so silly when I saw that tweet, thinking "what? someone stole my name!"
