

a Sine of Life

BAND STORY

"In the winter of 2007 three musicians from Saint John set up their instruments and starting making music. Inspired by the concept that modern dance music can be played live; "a Sine of Life" was born. Blending elements of dance beats, synth bass, analog effects and soulful vintage and modern keyboards into the mix; Bob Fitzgerald, Chris Veinot and James Dalzell had an instant connection. Building original song structures from improv jamming at their rehearsal spot in Saint John's South End, they have produced and recorded all of their music. While playing a style similar to DJ's and modern computer based music, these guys perform it completely live. Guaranteed to get people dancing, a Sine of Life are looking forward to bringing their sound from the studio to dance floors where ever they can. "
